

Letter of Recommendation for Felix Jena

From: Ladd Larsen, Chief Operating Officer, Utah Partners for Health

It is my pleasure to recommend Mr. Felix Jena in support of his petition under the Employment Based National Interest Waiver category. I worked closely with Felix during his time at Utah Partners for Health (UPFH), where I serve as Chief Operating Officer. UPFH is a Federally Qualified Health Center dedicated to expanding access to affordable care for underserved populations, an environment that depends on strong operational execution and data driven decision-making.

Felix distinguished himself through his analytical capabilities, initiative, and ability to translate complex data into actionable insights that directly supported executive-level decision-making. He developed and maintained custom dashboards for our department leaders across Medical, Dental, and Behavioral Health, providing visibility into critical metrics such as encounter volume, payor mix, no-shows, and cancellations. These tools significantly improved how we monitored performance and enabled faster, more informed decisions that strengthened both operational efficiency and patient outcomes.

In addition to his analytics work, Felix demonstrated strong ownership across financial and operational processes. He partnered with finance and pharmacy teams to streamline 340B reconciliation, improve QuickBooks matching, and enhance month-end reporting. These efforts reduced errors, improved accuracy, and saved staff time across multiple departments.

Felix also contributed to several analytical initiatives for the executive team, including patient attrition analysis and dental procedure profitability reviews. These projects provided insights that informed decisions related to scheduling, service mix, and resource allocation. His ability to approach challenges from both financial and operational perspectives made him a valuable contributor in executive discussions.

From my perspective, Felix's work extended beyond internal value to reflect broader relevance within healthcare operations. His contributions improved how we deliver care to underserved communities, aligning with national priorities around access, efficiency, and the use of data to drive better healthcare outcomes.

In summary, Felix Jena is a highly capable professional whose work has had a measurable and lasting impact on our organization. I fully support his National Interest Waiver petition and am confident he will continue to contribute meaningfully to systems that improve healthcare delivery and operational performance.

Sincerely,
Ladd Larsen
